"Where are you going my pretty maid?"
"I'm going to Whitman's, kind sir, to trade"
"Why do you go there, my pretty waid?"
"His stock is the very largest in the city, sir," she said
"But how are his prices, my pretty maid?"
"They're lower than any one else has made?"
Can I go with you my pretty maid,"
"Pleased with your company sir," she said,
So then these two the lad and maid,
Went hurrying off to trade:
And when the lad went home he said,

TO-DAY'S DOINGS IN THIS TOWN

Personal Notes and Brief Mention of Many Things.

THE WEATHER—For Ohio—Tuesday, fair, except light rain on the lakes; cooler.

TO-NIGHT: At Music Hall, lecture on the Johnstown Flood by the Rev. Mr. Pershing.

Hud McCall was in town to-day.

George Hering, of Mansfield, is visiting relatives in the city.

Miss Sadie Minich has returned from East Liverpool to Massillon.

The winter term examination of the high school begins to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wagoner returned from their bridal trip last night.

The lecture in Music Hall this evening will commence promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. C. M. Porter and Miss Lillian Thompson are spending the day in Cleveland.

The fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kline, living near Millport, died to-day.

Mrs. G. L. Albrecht and Miss Diehenn went to Canton this morning to remain several days.

Vandals amused themselves last night by breaking a large window in the East street school building.

Mr. Karl F. Miller was in the city a few hours yesterday, enroute from Chicago to Pittsburg.

Seven members of the clerical force in Russell & Co.'s office were down with the grip at one time.

The music committee of the First M. E Church will meet this evening at the office of Dr. T. C. Miller.

Mr. Edward Bailey left on Monday for Sioux City, Ia., after a stay of several weeks with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. P. Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ritter pleasantly entertained a number of their friends and neighbors last evening. Tiddledy winks was the main feature.

The "Y" meeting last night was well attended. Miss Morgan explained the nature of the arrangements for the convention soon to be held in this city.

Mrs. Brownlee, who will be remembered as having been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dillon, died last week at her home in Colorado, 200 miles from Denver.

Mrs. Clara Gerber, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. Wm. Stein, in Crestline, returned home accompanied by the latter, who will be the guest of her father, Mr. Ed. Seely.

The Salem News announces the name of B. S. Ambler, of that city, as a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from that district. Mr. Ambler is a son of Judge Ambler.

The Massillon Gas Light Company is preparing to carry out the improvements planned at the beginning of the year. Among other things George Curley has a contract to erect a coal shed 100 feet long.

Trains on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road were run into Steubenville yesterday evening for the first time since the February freshet, which destroyed the long trestle near that city and otherwise damaged the track on the extension.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Charles, M. Atwater to Miss Alice Fowles, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Atwater, Thursday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock. Only the family and immediate friends have been invited.

Senator Howells said yesterday morning that his bill to abandon the canals will come up in the senate on Wednesday, and he has hopes of its passage by that body. The senator thinks the legislature will not be ready to adjourn before the 15th or probably the 20th of April.

Members of the Athletic Association in charge of subscription lists are asked to push their work as rapidly as possible within the next few days. The charter will be granted very shortly, and the permanent organization should follow without delay. It is important that the selection of a club house be settled before April. 1.

C. B. Heckman secured contracts last night for two new East Main street residences, to be built at an aggregate cost of $9,000, by Messrs. Frank H. and Albert L. Snyder, for their own use. They will be handsome modern homes, and will add greatly to the street. They will be located on a lot purchased of the Jarvis estate, with frontage of 75 feet, for $1,950.

The Massillon Typographical Union No. 283 met last night in THE INDEPENDENT office, and completed its organization with the following officers: President, Reno Sprague; vice president, Eugene Anderson; secretary, W. E. Beresford; financial secretary. F. X. Stucker; sergeant at-arms, Irving A. Yost; executive committee, Eugene Anderson, Edward Paul and Wm. Newstetter.

While crossing the Ft. Wayne tracks at East street yesterday noon Fred Miller's delivery horse caught its foot between the planking and main track, falling heavily, just as the west bound express was due. Louis Rost, who was following from behind, speedily gave his assistance, and some one from the round house ran hastily up the track and around the curve to flag the express. The train was stopped just in time, for it was full five minutes after the animal's fall that it was freed and removed from the crossing.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

A New Station and Freight House for Massillon.

The Pennsylvania Company's long contemplated plan for improving its freight handling facilities in this city are about to be put into effect, and the necessary official orders are expected daily. New yards are to be provided near the Massillon & Cleveland junction, where there is ample room for sidings, which are now badly needed. A branch freight house will be located in the new yards, and the forwarding of all car load consignments will be conducted from there. All incoming freight and outgoing freight in less than car loads will be handled from the present yards and office. There are those who think that the building of new yards is the first quiet step in providing terminal facilities for the projected Massillon & Little Beaver.

Brice Wants the C., L. & W.

It is rumored in railroad and business circles, so the Cleveland Leader says, that Calvin S. Brice is endeavoring to obtain control of a majority of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling stock. The late Selah Chamberlain, who was president of the road, held the control of the stock. When he died the stock he held was divided among numerous relatives and friends. Brice, it is said, has guaranteed them 5 per cent. if they will place it under his control.

No Coal Syndicate Here.

The operator of several of the large Massillon mines had a chat with an INDEPENDENT man this morning, on Otis Young's scheme of consolidating local coal interests.

"Young talks as though he had everything in the palm of his hand," said he, "but you must not put much reliance upon his sanguine view of the situation. There is too sharp a rivalry between our different companies to permit of the consummation of his scheme. Of course it is only by consolidation that we ever can get the railroads to treat us properly. The passage of the Hysell bill, forbidding railroad companies to dabble in coal would have helped us, but you know all anti railroad legislation is kept at a respectful distance from the passage point."

Note from Castle Kessler.

Larry Steele, the irrepressible loafer and contumacious disturbing element in general, gave Depot Officer Harry Markle a lively tussle this afternoon. The disreputable idler was on a freight train ready to steel a ride to Canton when the officer discovered him. Because he was put off and told that he would have to go to the lockup he attacked the officer, tearing his clothes and tramping his hat, and came near "getting away" with the officer if assistance had not arrived—Markle being unable to draw his club. He was landed in the refrigerator and will probably receive an alopathic dose of justice this evening.

A Primary Echo.

The vote cast at the Democratic primary in Richville precinct was brought into the city last night. It does not affect the result, as published yesterday, and was as follows:

Trustee — Geo. Schaffert, 20; Jacob Mauger, 29; Julius Wittman, 15.

Assessor — Henry Moke, 28; B. F. Stump, 7; I. P. Swihart, 29.

Constable—Frank Shepley, 64; John Shearer, 51.

This precinct makes the total vote for trustee: Schaffert, 276; Mauger, 136; Wittman, 539.

A Concert Progamme.

The handsome auditorium of the new Christian church will be opened for the first time Thursday evening with a concert, at which the following programme will be carried out:

OUTSIDE OF POLITICS.

THE ALLIANCE STATE ORGANIZER'S OPINION.

He Says that there is no Existing Necessity for Political Action—The Present Extent of the Farmers' Order in Stark County.

Israel Bixler, of Middlebranch, Stark county, who fills the office of state organizer for the Farmers' Alliance, was halted on the street this morning by an INDEPENDENT reporter, while on his way to the Meyer's schoolhouse in Tuscarawas township, where he will organize a lodge of that association to-night.

"How many lodges are there now in this county and what is the aggregate membership?"

"We have thirty-two lodges and will organize two more this week. The membership in each averages from 150 to 180, the latter number being the largest in any one lodge."

"What is the extent of your territory, Mr. Bixler?"

"The state of Ohio. I was formerly organizer for Stark county, but at the Galion convention I showed the best organized county in the state and I was made organizer for Ohio, besides being put on the executive board."

"Is your assocsation doing anything in the way of taking a hand in politics?"

"No. I am advising against it. But if we can't secure our demands through legislation the time will come, and maybe before long, that the people will rise in their might and assume control of the politics of the state and country. There is no object in us creating a political party if we can gain our ends from either of the existing parties."

AT THE COUNTY SEAT.

Snatches of News from City and the Court House.

CANTON, March 24.—The personal attacks upon Charles Dougherty and G. V. L. Mellinger by the Democratic organ led yesterday afternoon to a street meeting with Editor Sherwood. The specific offence was the following paragraph:

"The Republicans also said it was the intention to clean out the Dougherty-Mellinger gang as instead of helping the cause, their being in the party tended to drive decent men over to the other side. He referred to the action of Charles Dougherty during the last campaign and said Dougherty did McKinley a great deal of harm."

Mr. Dougherty was highly incensed, the quotation being similar to many previous publications, and the upshot of the meeting was that he threatened to shoot Sherwood if abusive references did not cease. No blows were struck, and the moon rose as usual in the evening. Mr. Dougherty states that what he cared particularly for was the reference to the "Dougherty-Mellinger gang." He had not worked for Mellinger for nomination. In fact he did not favor his candidacy. He had taken no part in the campaign. Indeed he, with his brothers had been to Cleveland Saturday at his sister's funeral. He returned home that evening at 9 o'clock. The primaries were closed. He had nothing to do with them.

A museum is among the probable permanent features of Canton. Mr. A. H. Gump, press agent of Geary's World's Museum, was in town Saturday negotiating for location in Canton of a permanent museum. He expects to have a building constructed or rent a three-story block. The block now occupied by B Dannemiller & Sons, among others, has been considered.

A telegram from Toledo announces the death there on Sunday of Andrew M. Blake a former Cantonian, an orator of excellence and prominently identified with the Fenian movement.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Herman Kempher and Emma Begley, Canton; Charles Gulling and Rosa Monter, Barrysville; Frank E. Strauss and Emma Grossel, Navarre; Webster Leifer and Ivy Donat, Navarre.

A Mrs. Miller, living in Housel street, was to-day beaten by her husband, while he was intoxicated. Miller was arrested, and a physician dressed Mrs. Miller's injuries.

SHE KILLED HER MOTHER.

A Strange Reason Given for a Stark County Suicide.

Special Dispatch to The Independent.

LOUISVILLE, O., March 24.—Miss Katie Detweiler, a young lady of Louisville, committed suicide this forenoon by hanging herself in the barn adjoining her old home. She was 24 years of age. She left Canton this morning after a month's stay with J. M. Campbell, her uncle, and upon reaching Louisville, went directly to the barn and took her life. The supposed cause is insanity from la grippe. Coroner Openheimer was summoned.

The girl left a letter in which she said that she had made a mistake which had cost her mother her life, that she did not kill herself without thought, and that she was lost anyway. She asked that her body be buried as quietly as possible and the act forgiven and forgotten. She had had clerked at McKenzie & Robel's notion store and was regarded as a bright girl. She may have had trouble, but so far as known this is not the cause. Her friends say she had been suffering from grippe and assign mental aberation resulting from this disease as the cause for the act. Miss Detweiler was an orphan, her mother dying last June.

Cincinnati Democrats.

Special Dispatch to The Independent.

CINCINNATI, March 24.—The Democratic city convention has nominated the following ticket: Mayor, Gustav Taffel; supreme judge, J. R. Sayler; police judge, J. D. Ermston.

A Dry Goods Failure.

Special Dispatch to The Independent.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 24.—Anderson, Greer & Co., one of the largest dry goods houses in the state, have failed for $150,000; assets $200,000.

Mr. Cleveland has writtten another ponderous letter. Relief is reform, says the ex-president. Honesty is the best policy, says the parrot. Bah!

The Findlay people insult the intelligence of the state, in supposing that they can injure Prof. Edward Orton, state geologist, because he could not give scientific approval to the dictates of their imaginations, with respect to their gas supply. Mr. Orton will not be so easily removed.

Local Democracy has had its primary election. Like the Republican primary of a week before it was an exciting skirmish for those involved, and if there are any sore spots, those afflicted have sense enough to keep them covered. If there were no spirit to the primaries they might as well not be held. THE INDEPENDENT recognizes active competition as a necessity alike with in both political organizations.

It is suggested as important that the executive committee of the board of trade appoint, immediately, a large number of members to take charge of the improvement bond bill, on the coming election day. With industries ready to be admitted as soon as this act receives the affirmative vote of the people, no chances should be taken on its passage. Happily, the fact is that, so far as known, all are united in favor of the measure.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer remarks:

"As soon as congress adjourned Major McKinley packed his grip with the Congressional Record containing his tariff speeches, sent out an advance agent to arrange meetings and began to do the bidding of his masters, the trusts and combines. The Major is a poor man and it is presumed his employers are paying all traveling expenses and continuing his salary the same as of yore."

Major McKinley may be a poor man compared with his eminent successor, but this thing of picturing him as living upon the bounty of others is as impudent as it is untrue. Aside from his ability as a statesman, he is a skillful business man.

The board of education, in its financial report published yesterday, made a most excellent showing. With the school requirements growing visibly every month, it is often a serious matter to make the less rapidly increasing receipts do full justice all around, and this has succeeded as well as any could. The disbursements for the last two years have been substantially the same, excepting some few extraordinary items in the way of permanent improvement. The sum paid this year for for the radical changes in the large West Tremont street building comes properly under this head. They have been economically made, and in consequence there are four more rooms ready for occupancy when needed.

THE HYSELL BILL.

The bill, which has been on the legislative calendar for some time, to provide a permanent endowment for the university at Columbus, came up for third reading last Friday. That it has passed both Houses is a matter of congratulation. THE INDEPENDENT gladly endorses the measure. It is to place upon the tax duplicate of the state one-twentieth of a mill on the dollar of the taxable property of the state to constitute a permanent income for the state university. This marks a step upward in the state's attitude toward higher education It is the plan that Michigan has pursued in making its university only second to Harvard and Yale. Our university, as it is, is the superior in many respects of the other higher institutions of learning in Ohio. It is the only institution where thorough, practical and extended training is given in mechanical, civil, mining or electrical engineering. Her present equipment makes her the peer of any western institution, excepting Ann Arbor, in her technical instruction. The responsible positions of the Thompson-Houston Electric Light Company are at present manned by her graduates, a testimony of no small import.

The state's policy with regard to its highest institution of learning is now determined. It should have been placed upon a surer and more sufficient basis, independent of yearly appropriations some time ago. The only institution in the state where prevails no discriminations of race, color, sex or religion should be at once the state's pride and first consideration, and should at least be placed outside the pale of political bickerings. This piece of legislation accomplishes a thing so desirable.

Mr. Baer's Musical Plans.

Failing health and many solicitations induce me to devote a portion of my time to music. I will receive a limited number of pupils in music study and violin practice. I will also rearrange and adjust music to suit the requirements of any number and combination of instruments and all grades of performers, securing to small orchestras, the beauty of harmony, volume of tone, style and character of music as intended by the composer, and imparted by larger orchestras. Will manage and personally lead an orchestra of my own soon as a suitable and efficient organization can be effected, and will guarantee satisfaction in every respect, as in the past. Due notice will be given at to orchestra

NOTES FROM NAVARRE.

The Rev. B. F. Booth on the Late Rev. Joshua Cecil.

Prof. Will M. Gibson, who is now conducting a musical convention here, will, with the assistance of his class, give a concert in the Lutheran and Reformed church on Saturday evening.

Spring candidates are beginning to bud.

The Bethlehem township's branch of the Farmers' Alliance held a meeting on Saturday afternoon, found themselves several dollars in debt and agreed to surrender their charter.

J. J. Phillips, of Justus, was in town on Saturday and rented the store-room now occupied by Geo. H. Cross. He will open a store in it in the near future. Mr. Phillips is a hustler and will be a valuable acquisition to Navarre's business men.

F. M. Corl is negotiating for the establishment of a newspaper in Navarre, in the near future. Plans cannot now be made public, but our citizens can rest assured Navarre will have a newspaper.

The regular meeting of the Navarre Business Men's Association was held Monday evening of this week.

Grandmother Swan, mother of Mayor Biddle's wife, and who made her home with him, died Monday evening. Mrs. Swan was 85 years of age, and lived here for many years.

The Rev. J. Cecil, a well known citizen, is dead. His body was brought here from Coshocton, where he died, at the home of his daughter, Anna, and the funeral was held from the U. B. Church on Sunday morning. It was largely attended and the services were solemn and impressive. The following ministers were in attendance: The Rev. B. F Booth, D D., of Dayton, who preached an able discourse, and the Revs. Watson, Siffert and Davidson, of Massillon; Williamson, of Canton; Sage, of Canal Fulton; Corl, of Leon; Phillips, of Beach City; Scarborough, of Wilmot, and Coder, of Navarre. The following obituary has been handed us by Dr. Booth:

DR. BOOTH'S MEMORIAL NOTICE.

The Rev. Joshua Cecil was born in Harrison county, O., and died at Coshocton, O., March 1891, aged 81 years, 8 months and 11 days. He was married Nov. 11, 1848, to Rebecca Christie, who was born and raised in the same country with him. Brother Cecil and wife were each converted not long after their marriage under the labors of the now sainted Rev. L. L. Rinehart in Monroe county, O., and joined the U. B. church. Soon after, showing unmistakable evidence of ability to speak in public to profit, and feeling that he was called to preach the gospel, he was licensed to preach, and in due time joined the old Muskingum conference and appointed to a field of labor, and continued in the active work for thirty-one consecutive years, until by affliction at the last session of his conference (now East Ohio), he took a superannuated relation and has never been able again to preach. He had served as pastor, and for a number of years as a presiding elder, and twice represented his conference as a delegate in the general conference. He was a faithful and successful minister, always bringing good reports of his labor to the annual sessions. He was especially efficient in promoting revivals of religion and under his labors scores and hundreds were brought into the communion of the church. His preaching was of a doctrinal and practical character and always warm and evangelical and he was a splendid singer, which helped him much in his work. He was very efficient in the finances of the church, and under his inspiring influence a number of churches were built, and others repaired and beautified. He raised a large family on a small salary, and was compelled to move frequently; yet he cheerfully in self-sacrificing devotion faithfully endured it, and went forward in unflinching service in his calling. He was therefore eminently useful, and many will rise up to call him blessed in the last day. He was an upright, honest and industrious man, often working with his hands to support his family, while he constantly preached the word of life.

He has made an honorable and noble record, worthy the profoundest respect of the church that he served so long and so well, and of all those who came under his ministry. His wife preceded him only nine weeks in death.

They had lived long and happily together, borne hardship and trial with patience, and her death was a sad stroke; but in a merciful providence they were not long separated by death.

His last sickness was protracted, and at times severe. It was a tumor in the throat, which, after being opened, developed into a bleeding cancer which soon ended his life. He bore his sufferings patiently and died in great peace and triumph. He has filled well life's mission and passed on to his great reward. He had lived a long time in Navarre, where he was highly respected as a citizen and minister. He will be greatly missed by the conference and ceurch, and by hundreds of friends. His funeral was held in Navarre on the 22nd inst., the occasion being improved by the writer from the words "Call the laborers and give them their hire."

A large funeral and solemn services. The body was interred by the side of his wife in the Massillon cemetary.

Peace to his ashes and blessings upon the living. B. F. BOOTH.

NAVARRE, O. March 25, '91.

ECHOES FROM THE SHOPS.

Note and Comment on Men and Doings at Russell Co.'s.

W. C. Russell's condition is reported to be some better to-day.

Michael Rith has returned to his post of duty as happy as ever.

Mr. John Walters, who was given up by his physicians last week, is reported to be yet very low.

Mr. Henry Hubbard has returned from Indiana, where he has been in the interest of Russell & Co.

Peter Welsch, who was working in the belt room, was taken suddenly sick with typhoid fever, and is lying very low at his home in North street.

Charles Haines, who is employed in the farm engine erecting room, has been detained at home for about two weeks with a couple of carbuncles under his arm. He had intended to return to work when two more of the comforters made their appearance, and Charles has engaged to nurse them into maturity.

Mr. Christ. Howald, who was seriously ill for a long time last fall with typhoid fever, and, like all others who have experienced the ravages of that dread disease, has been gradually gaining his former health, is now confined to his home with that universal complaint, the grip, which is also the cause of the sickness of two other members of Mr. Howald's household.

Many of the employes here attended the funeral of the late Rev. J. Cecil, at Navarre, Sunday. Mr. Cecil, who was the father of Mr. Levi Cecil, was well and favorably known to a great many of the old citizens who are employed here. He was a man of wide experience and kindly motives. In gentle deeds and generous acts he was a true Christian, and it was with sad hearts the last respects were paid to a dear old friend who was always kind to all who needed his aid and counsel.

Any one hearing a noise while passing brother charles Shertzer's fire, similar to the croak of an old hen struggling in the grasp of midnight marauder, should not be alarmed. It is only his way of giving vent to his feelings. He was disappointed. Every candidate he had set his heart upon was beaten and he is now taking revenge by pinching himself because he made such a poor selection. His face has as happy a cast as uncle Tom Volkmor's had when he waltzed gaily homeward with his hat down over his eyes and his letter accepting the nomination yet in his inside vest pocket, murmuring softly to himself, "Home, sweet home," etc.

In the underground mail:—The friends of Mr. Charles Garrigues will be pleased to know that they can again approach him without receiving a look, the fierceness of which would almost drive a man down into his boots. He is, however, so often plied with the question "How is your jaw," that he is threatened with an attack on the other side of the face by reason of the long explanations he is constantly put to. To save further inconvenience he wishes it echoed that if he is given a rest the lop sided smile he has been wearing will disappear, as the complaint has been pronounced by Dr. Shallenberger but a natural case of "lumboogoo" of the jaw.

Bro. Phillip Geis is happy in the fact that he has at last learned the meaning of "tiddledy wink." After spending about two weeks in ransacking all the old song books he was shown a box of them in one of the windows of The Independent Co., by a friend whom he had appealed to. Phillip's cheeks flushed to a schoolboy freshness, as with hands clasped in uncontrollable emotion, he exclaimed in a voice heard across the street, "Gosh, them buttons." When his delighted friend crowded round to congratulate him. Phillip got "onto the racket," and quietly slunk around the corner and made a bee line for home, where he bathed his head in a bucket of ice water, after which he kicked himself to sleep. All you have to say now is "Gosh" and Phillip turns red.

Mr. James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill., says: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right to-day and would insist on everyone who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." For sale by Morganthaler & Heister.

The following item has been going the rounds of the press, and as our druggist, Morganthaler & Heister, handle the goods, it may interest our readers:

Having had occasion to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it gives me pleasure to state that I found it to be the best medicine for a cough I ever used; in fact, it cured me of a cough that had baffled several other cough medicines.— N. R. Burnett, Atalissa Iowa.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

THE WHITE HOUSE SOCIAL SEASON NOW AT AN END.

Mrs. Harrison Will Refrain from Anything of a Public Social Nature—Several Notable Spring Weddings on the List—Miss Fuller and Mr. A. L. Brown to be United in Matrimonial Bliss.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—It is not probable that the close of the Lenten season a week hence will make much difference in the social enjoyments of the capital. The season has been rather loosely observed at best, and the fact that so many prominent families are in mourning and so many others out of the city since the adjournment of congress, will tend to modify somewhat the gayety which might otherwise follow the period of fasting and prayer. This week Mrs. Harrison will refrain from anything of a public social nature. It is said, however, that during Easter week she will give another luncheon. So far as the larger entertainments are concerned, unless some special emergency may occur, the season is over at the White House.

The Brown-Fuller Nuptials.

Of several notable spring weddings announced, possibly the one most interesting to the public, and one which will bring out the entire White House contingent, is that of Miss Fuller, one of the many daughters of the chief justice of the supreme court, and Mr. Archibald L. Brown, of Chicago. On their wedding tour to Europe the bride will visit her sister, Miss Mary Fuller, who is still living in the musical atmosphere she most enjoys—that of Berlin.

AMERICAN BEEF IN GERMANY.

Success the Live Stock Trade of the United States Has Met With.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Secretary Rusk received the following communication from the board of directors of the Chicago live stock exchange: "Observing from the cable dispatches the success your untiring zeal in behalf of the live stock trade of the United States has met with in securing another outlet for our already overburdened markets in that we are now able to place American beef in Germany without the restrictions that have formerly prevailed, we desire on behalf of the Chicago live stock exchange to extend to you our sincere thanks for your able efforts in that behalf." The records of the agricultural department show that the exports of live stock continue to be highly encouraging. These records show that cattle were tagged and exported from November 15, 1890, to March 22, 1891, as follows. New York, 41,963; Baltimore, 29,649; Philadelphia, 4,271; New Orleans, 250; Norfolk, Va., 662; West Point, Va., 541; Newport News, Va., 4,807; Boston, Mass., 40,728; Portland, Me., 1,834. Exports to Germany, France and Belgium from July 1, 1890, to March 22, 1891, amounted to 16,045; of this number Germany received 4,328; France, 6,330, and Belgium, 5,387.

Gen. Garfield's Grandson.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A day or two ago a nurse accompanying a baby boy came into the White House, and after strolling through the east room asked permission to show her little charge the other parts. Stopping in front of the portrait of President Garfield she said to the little one: "See grandpa," and the boy laughed up at the picture. He was James Garfield Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown, and was making his first visit to the White House. Mrs. Garfield has been visiting her daughter for some weeks, but going out, as she does, so little, only her more intimate friends have known of her presence in the city.

Sockless Simpson's Programme.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Representative Simpson, of Kansas, left for Boston, where he is to be joined by Ralph Beaumont and take part in the Citizens' alliance campaign in New England, speaking at Concord, N. H., Wednesday evening; Manchester, Thursday; Augusta, Me., Friday, and Portland, Saturday.

Mrs. Halford Seriously Ill.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Private Secretary Halford has been called to the bedside of his wife, who is in Florida, and whose health for months past has been poor, is now growing rapidly worse. Her illness is considered of a very serious nature and fears are expressed for her final recovery.

Blair Accepts the Chinese Mission.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Ex-Senator Blair has accepted the Chinese mission, and has arranged to sail from San Francisco for china on the 1st of May. He has already received his instructions from Secretary Blaine.

Prince Bonaparte Betrothed.

PARIS, March 24.—The Gaulois makes the statement that Prince Roland Bonaparte has been betrothed to Princess Letitia, only daughter of the late Prince Napoleon. The marriage will be celebrated immediately upon the expiration of the prescribed period of mourning for the late Prince Napoleon. Consent to the betrothal was given by the dead prince just before he passed away.

Fatally Injured in a Railroad Wreck.

COLUMBUS, O., March 24 —The westbound limited mail on the Panhandle crashed into a freight train at Conesville last night. John Dickinson, fireman; Oscar Farrow, engineer, and John Barrett were injured, the first fatally.

THE OHIO LEGISLATURE.

Both Houses Transact a Large Amount of Business.

COLUMBUS, O., March 24. — Representative Guffin, by request of Representative Brown, of Hancock, introduced in the house a joint resolution asking for a joint committee of the legislature to investigate the charges against Professor Edward Orton, state geologist. Those interested in the natural gas fields of Northeastern Ohio aver that Professor Edward Orton, by public declarations made in the last geological survey report, is influencing capital from investing in several counties within the natural gas belt. The resolution recites that, while nominally in the employ of the state, Professor Orton is in fact representing the Standard Oil company to the extent of depreciating the value and permanence of the gas plants in Northwestern Ohio so as to enable that company to take in all the gas lands held by individuals at a price far below their real value, and thus shut out all influential competition on the part of individuals or other companies.

The house transacted a large amount of business at the night session. The tail end of the famous board of public improvements of Cincinnati gave another expiring squirm in the house.

Mr. McMaken, of Butler, introduced a bill repealing the act creating the board. His object was to abolish the board independent of the charter bill, so that if the latter should be declared unconstitutional the board could not drop back into existence. Mr. McMaken had the bill read the second time and put on its passage, but the Cincinnati members made a kick and, ruling against it, the measure was defeated.

Representative Day, of Hamilton, introduced a novel and elaborate scheme for the cure and reformation of drunkards. Any person charged with habitual drunkenness or occasional drunkenness, on conviction shall be declared incompetent to control himself. The governor shall appoint a board of five trustees to be known as the state board of trustees of hospitals and institutions for the cure of drunkenness. The county commissioners are authorized to purchase grounds and buildings for hospitals for drunkards, or to make arrangements with private institutions and adopt regulations for the government of these persons. Any person standing committed as a drunkard shall be conveyed and kept in the hospitals for a term of not less than six months for occasional and periodical drunkenness and not less than one year for an habitual drunkard.

Representative Cutler last night introduced in the house two bills which are being enacted into laws by all the states. They were drawn up by the National Bar association, and the first supplements 5669, revised statutes, relating to the prevention of fraudulent divorces, and makes it uniform with other states. The other establishes uniformity in the acknowledgment of deeds.

FORGAVE HER.

No Divorce Wanted from a Wife Who Eloped with a Colored Farm Hand.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., March 24.—The sensational Reisterer divorce suit was settled by mutual consent, and there will be no separation. Mrs. Effie Reisterer, the defendant in the case, is the pretty young wife who became infatuated with a colored farm hand about two months ago and ran off with him. The elopement caused the divorce proceedings, but the return of Mrs. Reisterer to her home and family, with good promises for the future, resulted in the settlement.

A Sneak Thief Fatally Shoots a Pugilist.

CINCINNATI, O., March 24. — Louis Bezinah, the well-known light-weight prize fighter, was shot and mortally wounded last evening by Frank Duger, alias "Kid Dugan," a sneak thief and pickpocket, whose home is in St. Paul, Minn. The shooting occurred in a Longworth street house of ill-fame kept by May Riley. Duger had been her lover, and when he called at her house in the evening the woman declined to see him. He went to her room and drew a revolver and fired at her twice, one shot taking effect in the brck of her head and the other in her arm. Bezinah, who was present at the time, attempted to grapple with the man, but two shots from Duger's pistol laid him low. The fifth shot struck another woman in the mouth, knocking out her teeth.

Lord Salisbury and Reciprocity.

LONDON, March 24.—A letter has been written by Lord Salisbury to the Glasgow chamber of commerce, in which he says he is well aware how important is the treaty of reciprocity between the United States and Brazil. Four years ago, Lord Salisbury adds, the government failed to secure the assent of Brazil to the "most favored nation" treatment for British merchandise. The letter concludes with an assurance that the British government would now renew its efforts in the same direction.

3,143 Immigrants Arrive in New York.

NEW YORK, March 24.—On five steamers that arrived yesterday from European ports there were 3,143 immigrants. It will take the emigration officers two whole days to pass this army of men, women and children through the barge office, and before they are all sent their various ways the chances are that more immigrants will arrive to keep them busy. During the next thirty days it is estimated that 30,000 or 40,000 immigrants will arrive.

BURNED TO DEATH.

THREE MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES WHILE AT WORK.

Two Others Fatally Burned—The Explosion of a Big Pipe Under a Still Caused the Oil to Ignite and Pour Down Upon the Men—Two Dead When Taken Out.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 24.—An explosion occurred yesterday in the yard of the Tidewater Refining company, at Constable Hook, by which three men were burned to death and two others fatally burned. There are about twenty-five stills in the yard, all of which are numbered. Running above the chain of stills is a large pipe, which is used to pump the oil from one still into another. A gang of men were at work raising still No. 16, by placing a block under it, when the big pipe connecting the chain of stills on top suddenly exploded. The oil became ignited and poured down on the men who were caught in between still No. 16 and 15. Rescuing parties were at once set to work to get the men out, but this could not be done until the flames were extinguished. John Hayes, aged 45 years, married, and Michael Haley, 22 years old and married, were dead when taken out. Foreman George Gregory was alive when taken out, but was so badly burned that he died at the hospital shortly after. John Anderson and John Gallagher were taken to the Bayonne hospital. The physicians at the hospital say they cannot recover.

ANOTHER BANK CLOSED.

This Time the Washington National of New York—The President Disappears.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Washington National bank, at No. 1 Broadway, closed its doors at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, as it had been discovered that its capital had been impaired. The bank examiner will take charge and the bank's affairs will probably be wound up. Sidell Tilghman, a director of the bank, said the irregularities in the bank's affairs were first discovered about a week ago. After a cursory examination on Saturday last it was found that the impairment was in the neighborhood of $75,000. This sum was to have been made good by the directors, but President Sherman informed the directors that the impairment was larger than had been discovered and would aggregate about $60,000 more than it was thought to be. It was then decided to discontinue business. Director Tilghman declares that the depositors will be paid in full. It was learned that the bank's money had been loaned out by the president to friends on poor and worthless collateral. President Sherman had the full confidence of the directors. When the complete announcement of the bank's condition had been made he had disappeared.

TEXAS' STATE SUGAR FARM.

The Governor Vetoes a Bill to Accept the Two Cents Bounty.

AUSTIN, March 24.—The state of Texas owns and runs a sugar farm, worked by convicts. Recently a bill was passed by the legislature to adopt the 2 cents bounty under the McKinley bill. Governor Hogg vetoed it. The veto closes in part as follows: The state is sovereign of her own affairs, and cannot be disturbed in the legitimate exercise of her prerogatives. If she desires to raise sugar by convict labor, under no circumstances could she with propriety ask or accept from any government a license to do so. Nor could she yield to a supervision of her affairs by any officer nor subordinate to her own laws. To do so in one instance would lead to another, and finally to supervision by the federal government over the cotton patches, wheat fields, stock ranches, lumber yards and factories within her limits.

KICKED TO DEATH.

A Louisville Saloon-Keeper's Method of Silencing a Noisy Customer.

LOUISVILLE, March 24. — Thomas Jameson, proprietor of the saloon in the old American house, is in jail charged with murder. John Cash, a tinner by occupation, entered his place and, after taking several drinks, had an altercation with the proprietor. He was admonished to keep quiet. Cash became involved in a controversy with another patron of the place, whereupon Jameson threw him into the street, and, witnesses say, he kicked him. Cash arose to walk away, but staggered and fell dead to the pavement. His body was removed to the city undertaker's, where Coroner Miller held a post-mortem.

Gen. Sherman's Home to be Sold.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The home where Gen. Sherman died is to pass out of the hands of the Sherman family. P. Tecumseh Sherman, the veteran warrior's younger son, has been invested with full authority by the heirs of the general to dispose of the house No. 75 West Seventy-first street. The instrument giving the authority for the sale was filed in the register's office here.

THEIR DEMANDS CONCEDED.

Chicago Switchmen Strike, but Return to Work a Few Hours Later.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The switchmen employed on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad in this city went out on strike at 6 p. m. last evening, but returned to work a few hours later, the company conceding their demands. The trouble was caused by the discharge of Switchman Crowe last Saturday by Yardmaster McInerieny. A committee from the Switchmen's union waited on the officials of the road and claimed that Crowe had been discharged without cause and demanded that he be taken back before 6 p. m. and McInerieny discharged. These demands not being complied with at 6 p. m., the switchmen in the city yards struck, but after being out a few hours the company yielded to the demands of the men, took Crowe back and discharged McInerieny. Passenger trains leaving Chicago on that road were delayed about forty-five minutes.

FALL RIVER MANUFACTURERS

Issue an Address in Regard to the Labor Bills Before the Legislature.

FALL RIVER, MASS., March 24.—The Manufacturers' association, of this city, comprising the treasurers of all the mills, have issued an address saying that bills are before the labor committees of the legislature for the reduction of hours of labor to 58, 56 or 54 per week, that should one of them be enacted the productive capacity of the factories would be reduced one-tenth, thus wiping out of existence property worth more than $2,000,000 which is now engaged in furnishing employment to labor, and that the effect upon the operatives would be no less disastrous than to stockholders, as if the 54-hour bill became a law it would result in a loss of wages to the operatives of Fall River amounting to $13,000 a week, or $650,000 per year.

MERCANTILE AGENCIES DOWNED.

The Stringent Law in South Dakota Declared Constitutional.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 24.—A very important decision was rendered by the state supreme court in upholding the constitutionality of the law requiring commercial agencies doing business in the state to deposit $50,000 in cash with the state treasurer as a guarantee fund for any judgment obtained by misrepresentation as to firms' credit. Bradstreet withdrew from the state after the law went into effect, while R. G. Dun & Co. have fought the law, claiming that commercial agencies come under provisions of the inter-state act of the federal constitution, and were not subject to state laws. The case will be appealed to the United States supreme court.

Workmen in a Destitute Condition.

PINE BLUFF, ARK., March 24.—Owing to the failure of the Cypress Lumber company, at Sherrill, a most pitiable condition of affairs exist. When the mill closed 150 men were thrown out of work, and as none of them had received a dollar's pay for their work in several months they are in a destitute condition. The mill owes the men all the way from $50 to $600 each. Now that the failure has occurred they can get nothing to live upon. It is understood a meeting of the creditors of the company will be called to try and come to a settlement.

Nebraska's Deadlock Broken.

LINCOLN, NEB., March 24.—After lasting over seventy-four hours the deadlock in the senate was broken yesterday by the Independents, who succeeded in winning over one of the Republican opponents of the maximum freight rate bill. The call of the house was dispensed with and the bill passed. It now goes to the governor for his signature.

The Fast Day Proclamation Omited.

WINSTED, CONN., March 24.—The governor's fast day proclamation was not read in any of the churches Sunday as has been the custom. The town clerk, George Wentworth, a Democrat, did not furnish the official proclamation to the pastors of the different churches and explains his reason for not doing so was because he did not recognize Bulkely as governor.

FAITH CURE FOLLIES.

A Danbury Man Who Believed the Lord Required a Human Sacrifice.

DANBURY, March 24.—Bridgewater, a quiet little village eight miles from here, is in a state of agitation over a number of alleged faith cures, and Oliver H. Jessup, a well-to-do resident of the place, has gone insane over the craze. A number of the villagers profess to have been cured of various ills by simple faith and prayer, and when Jessup was taken sick a week ago he refused to allow his family to call a doctor, relying on his recovery solely upon faith cure advocates, who surrounded his bed at all hours of the day and night. Jessup finally conceived the idea that the Lord required a human sacrifice. He was left alone for a few minutes on Thursday, and he prepared to carry out his insane freaks by constructing an alter from his bedroom furniture, and piling about it a lot of combustibles. Then he seized his little granddaughter, a tot of a few months, who was sleeping in the next room, and placed her upon the altar. A member of the family, attracted by the child's cries, entered the room just as the insane man was touching a match to the inflammable material. The child was rescued without injury, but the house narrowly escaped destruction, and the crazy man nearly lost his life before he was overpowered and carried away.

Sensational Suicide at Findlay.

FINDLAY, O., March 24.—Dr. R. M. Bahl, a well-known and prominent German physician, committed suicide yesterday by taking fifty-eight morphia pills. On the wall of his office, where he was found dead, was a calculation in which he had figured out how long it would take him to die. He was a native of Heidelburg, Germany, 48 years old and was a highly educated man.

SOME CHICAGO LAWYERS

THEY HAVE GAINED FAME AND FORTUNE BY HARD WORK.

General Stiles, the Blind Advocate—Alfred S. Trude's Career—How Goudy, Mills, Mason and Longenecker Have Won Their Positions at the Bar.

[Copyright by American Press Association.]

GENERAL I. N. STILES.

Through a throng that seemingly occupied every available inch of standing room in one of Chicago's courts a few days ago, a little old man, leaning on the arm of a stalwart attendant, walked to a seat in front of the bench and sat down. The little old man was General I. N. Stiles. He sat there seen by all but seeing none, for some months since he became blind. But his mind is as keen, his tongue as sharp as ever, and his love of public and private integrity remains a conspicuous part of his nature. As he entered the door of the courtroom the dense crowd split in two and permitted him to pass. His public speech is free of oratorical ornament.

Fanciful flights are foreign to him. The imagination of the listener is but seldom appealed to, and when it is, it is because the general has seen fit to quote a passage from some of the great poets. But his speeches are none the less interesting for all that. They bristle with facts, each set in a way best calculated to arrest the attention of the judge and jury. As a usual thing his speeches are not long. Yet even when they keep him upon his feet for hours no auditor shows the slightest sign of weariness, or by so much as glancing at his watch indicates that he has heard about enough. His is the habit to cajole the defendants—particularly if they are charged with crime—into the belief that he is repenting for his severity during the trial, and in reality regrets the pointed things he has said, and then just as they reward his efforts with a smile of good fellowship straight in their faces he flings an accusation that seems to fairly make them recoil. As a noted criminal once remarked after Stiles had flayed him:

"Blast me if it wasn't a tough thing to do. If the jury sends me up I sha'n't blame them."

In repartee General Stiles has few equals and no superiors at the Chicago bar. He despises cant and hypocrisy, and if there come an occasion on which he may express his contempt for them he never permits it to pass unimproved.

Alfred S. Trude made his mark in criminal practice, and many a man who now walks the streets free and undisturbed owes his liberty, and in many instances his life, to the dexterity with which Trude handled his case. His great success lies in his persuasive powers with a jury. Men and newspapers have not infrequently criticised them. When the jury bribing incident of the

W. C. GOUDY.

Cronin trial was discovered, and with it the culpability of John Graham, Trude's confidential clerk, Trude was out of the city. He returned shortly, however, and to a reporter who asked what he thought of the affair he replied:

"I object to it. What makes me object to it is the clumsiness with which it was managed. Why, it's enough to make a man disgusted."

Trude has little criminal practice now. He has been getting out of it, and unless it is to save some friend—a being whom Trude never forgets—he does not appear at the criminal bar. Instead of devoting his unquestioned talents to the interests of accused people, nearly his entire time is employed on behalf of the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago company. He has amassed a fortune which, together with his retainers from the two corporations mentioned, yields him an annual income of $50,000.

To Luther Laflin Mills is generally accorded the title of "the greatest orator of Chicago." Not much over forty, of spare build and medium height, a clean cut, smooth shaven face, eyes variable and eloquent in their meanings as his voice, he rivets the attention of every one when he rises to speak. There is nothing rugged about his oratory. Each sentence is polished and complete. His imagery is delicate to the ear and strong to the reason. His gestures are graceful and wonderfully expressive, and when he has warmed up to his discourse his whole being seems inspired.

When the day arrived for him to deliver the closing address on behalf of the state in the Cronin trial, the courtroom was filled three hours before the judge ascended the bench, and a double line of men and women, unable to get inside, reached from the criminal court building nearly to the river, three blocks away. Even when it was learned that sickness kept him at home the crowd clung to the hope that possibly he might recover, and remained in line until court adjourned at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. A most courteous gentleman is Mr. Mills, and his record as state's attorney is, in an oratorical sense, the most brilliant in the history of Chicago.

WILLIAM E. MASON.

Occasionally, but not so frequently as either of the three lawyers spoken of, a small man, with a well shaped head framed in white hair and a tuft of white concealing his chin, is seen in the Chicago courtrooms. His name is William C. Goudy, and he is the attorney for the Chicago and Northwestern railway and for the gas trust. At the time of the vacancy in the United States supreme bench, caused by the death of Chief Justice Waite, Goudy was looked upon as the probable successor. When rumor narrowed the possibilities down to Goudy and Fuller the judgment of the bar was that Goudy would be the fortunate man. He thought so himself, and the subsequent disappointment was, as is natural to suppose, a great one. He enjoys the reputation of being one of the most able corporation lawyers in the west.

Among the younger members of the bar who have achieved a place in the front rank of corporation lawyers is ex-Congressman William E. Mason. He is not seen much in the courts, but on his advice many wealthy clients base their determination to begin important suits or to make investments involving hundreds of thousands of dollars. If his opinion is a negative one, then there is no suit and no purchase.

Judge Joel M. Longenecker, the present state's attorney of Chicago, has a wide reputation for legal ability. The success he has achieved in his present position is ample proof that he is thoroughly familiar with the criminal code and its application. In private practice he has long been recognized as a splendidly equipped constitutional lawyer.

John S. Runnells, attorney for the Pullman company, has been brought into prominence as counsel for ex-Secretary Gibson, of the Whisky trust, the legal interests of which great corporation he also looks after. A very polished, courtly person is J. S. Runnells, and that he is not more widely known is due to the volume of his office practice.

William J. Hynes served for several terms as a member of congress from Arkansas. He located in Chicago a number of years ago and has achieved considerable legal distinction. He is an orator to whose well rounded phrases, delivered in musically modulated tones, it is a genuine pleasure to listen.

Undaunted by Misfortune.

Emanuel Beck, of Lancaster, Pa., is a plucky young fellow, and there is but little doubt that he will make his way in the world. While employed as a brakeman he lost both hands in a railway accident. During convalescence he practiced holding a pen or pencil at the elbow joint of the left arm. Now he can write legibly and has secured work as a bookkeeper.

End of the "All Black" Craze.

The "all black" craze in underwear and indeed everything from suspenders to pique shirts and collar buttons of jet, seems to have run its mournful course—that is, as far as there is any special demand for these goods over other features in the line.

THE TRAGEDY AT NEW ORLEANS.

It Was the Result of an Organized Popular Movement.

New Orleans has beat the American record in the line of lynch law—or mob violence, as some prefer to call it. Never before did an occurrence so completely combine the elements of sudden popular frenzy and regular, respectable organization. The net results are: Eleven Italians attacked in the parish prison and hanged or shot to death, a storm of indignation from Italians all over the country, a rain of telegrams upon the president and Secretary Blaine, and a complication with Italy which may lead to serious results.

WHERE THE MASS MEETING WAS HELD.

The facts are as romantic as they are horrible. No other country in modern times, if ever, has been so honeycombed with secret societies as Italy—the result of oppression and foreign rule. Plotting was brought to an exact science. One formidable conspiracy in Naples was organized without a word being spoken or written—it was done entirely by gesture. Italy became free, but the habit remained; some of the "patriots" degenerated into criminals, and a few of the organizations were transplanted to the United States, chief among them the "Mafia."

In the last twenty-five years it has done much deadly work in New Orleans, but at last Chief of Police David C. Hennessy got at the secrets of the organization, and went to work to break it up. Many warnings came, and he took unusual precautions, but on the night of Oct. 15, 1890, about 11 o'clock, he was waylaid and shot to death by a band of assassins. The public indignation was fierce, and as a result many arrests were made, and nine Italians were brought to trial. In the face of evidence which seemed conclusive to the people, the jury acquitted six and disagreed as to three. Next day a mass meeting was called around the Clay statue, and there W. S. Parkerson, John C. Wickliffe and other prominent citizens urged the people to act.

They acted. Arming themselves hastily they rushed to the parish prison, near Congo square, and broke it open. The details may well be omitted. There was accurate and merciless shooting as the accused knelt in the prison yard or their cells and prayed. Two were dragged out and hanged, one being riddled with bullets as he swung. Eleven were thus slaughtered. All this before noon and without interference by the authorities. Then, says the local account, "the crowd dispersed in an orderly manner."

HE LOVED A MERRY JEST.

A. Miner Griswold the Last of the Old Time Humorists to Go.

A. Miner Griswold, whose death from apoplexy was recently announced, may be classed as the last of the old set of humorists—those who attained some prominence before the war. There was a peculiar break, if one may call it such, in the succession during the war, and though Artemus Ward, Mr. Griswold and a few others survived through various terms, a whole school of old style humorists—John Phoenix and his cotemporaries—seemed to drop out of literature at once and be succeeded by men who wrote in a totally different vein. Mr. Griswold was born in 1836, in Oneida county, N. Y., and was known in journalism as early as 1859. He commenced work on the Buffalo Republic, writing short and spicy paragraphs and dialogues—a sort of "copy" which, from its many blanks and dashes, is known among printers as "fat." They therefore called him "our fat contributor," and as Mr. Griswold was at that time strangely spare, weighing little more than 100 pounds, the title struck him as a huge joke, and so he took for his nom de plume "The Fat Kontributor." His first notable work was on the Detroit Free Press. Later he succeeded Artemus Ward on the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and in 1863 took a place on the Cincinnati Times. Overwork brought ill health and weak eyes, and in 1864 he became a dramatic manager. Since then he has been both lecturer and writer, and his rambling talks entitled "Injun Meal," "American Antiquities," etc., have delighted many thousands. In 1872 he started The Fat Contributors' Saturday Night, and in 1886 bought an interest in Texas Siftings, on which he was employed when his last illness came.

A Valuable Book Mark.

One may mark his place in a book with a bit of paper, or, if he likes dainty things, he can purchase a marker worth any way from twenty-five cents to ten dollars. But Aaron Holman, a farmer, of West Millbury, Mass., kept his place in the family bible with something still more valuable. He used a certificate of deposit calling for $700.

COULD NOT ATTEND.

Ex-President Cleveland's Letter to the Indiana Tariff Reform League.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 24.—Ex-President Cleveland, in a letter to the Indiana Tariff Reform league, declining to be present at the league's annual meeting, says:

You will not, I hope, think it amiss if I suggest the necessity of pushing with more vigor than ever the doctrine of your organization. I believe that the theories and practices which tariff reform antagonizes are responsible for many, if not all, of the evils which afflict our people. If there is a scarcity of the circulating medium, is not the experiment worth trying as a remedy of leaving the money in the hands of the people, and for their use, which is needlessly taken from them under the pretext of necessary taxation. If the farmer's lot is a hard one in his discouraging struggle for better rewards of his toil, are the prices of his products to be improved by a policy which hampers trade in his best markets and invites the competition of dangerous rivals? Whether other means of relief may appear neccessary to relieve present hardships, I believe the principle of tariff reform promises a most important aid in their satisfactions, and the continued and earnest advocacy of this principle is essential to the lightening of the burdens of our countrymen. Hoping that your organization may continue to be one of great usefulness and encouragement, I am,

Yours very respectfully,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

NEW JERSEY'S LIQUOR LEGISLATION

Creates a Lively Discussion in the Methodist Conference.

TRENTON, N. J., March 24.—There was a lively discussion in the New Jersey Methodist conference over the liquor legislation enacted by the legislature which adjourned last Friday. The governor and other officials were denounced for taking the power of the granting of licenses from the court in temperance localities and giving it to a county commission appointed by the governor. This will give a license to Asbury Park and all the temperance towns in the state. A committee was appointed to visit all the churches in the conference for the purpose of having committees created to confer with a general committee for a unification of ballot. They now favor the indorsement of all bona fide temperance candidates in either party and will support them if pledged.

A Little Girl's Experience in a Light house.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the government lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter, 4 years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, followed with a dreadful cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain; she grew worse rapidly until she was a mere "handful of bones." Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold. yet you may get a free trial bottle at Z. T. Baltzly's Drug store.

A Blessing to Humanity.

This is what N. H. Andrews, a prominent citizen of Springfield, O., says: "It affords me great pleasure to assure my friends that I have received both immediate and permanent relief of throat, bronchial and asthmatic trouble in the use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy. It is certainly a good honest medicine and a blessing to humanity." The above preparation we sell on a positive guarantee; it has given better satisfaction than any other remedy we have ever sold. J.
